

Robert Curry to chair 2008 United Way campaign

Robert M. Curry, a partner with the law firm Thompson Hine LLP, has been appointed chair of the 2008 United Way of the Greater Dayton Area campaign. Curry, partner-in-charge of Thompson Hine's Dayton office and a member of its Real Estate practice group, served as chair of United Way's Attorney Division during its 2005-2007 campaigns to promote giving by lawyers throughout the Dayton area. He also serves on the United Way board of directors.

Robert Curry

"It takes a real leader to step up to this role during challenging economic times," said United Way president Marc R. Levy. "Bob is that kind of leader, with the compassion and commitment to help ensure the campaign is a success."

"United Way serves the most vulnerable members of our community – displaced workers, families threatened by foreclosure, children with inadequate pre-school and after-school alternatives, disabled persons and others with special needs," said Curry. "When the economy goes down, the need for these services goes up. With that in mind, we will be asking our donors to maintain or increase their levels of giving if at all possible. That won't be an easy message to sell, but it's the right one."

An Oakwood resident, Curry also serves on the boards of the Dayton Development Coalition and the Downtown Dayton Partnership and on the advisory council to the University of Dayton School of Law. He received his law degree from The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law and his undergraduate degree, magna cum laude, from Miami University. He is chair of the Ohio State Bar Association Real Property Section and a member of the American College of Real Estate Lawyers, the Dayton Bar Association and the American Bar Association.
