We did our homework

More comfort—at a more affordable cost

"We wanted to downsize our cost of living. The big house didn't make sense now that the kids moved away and it was getting more and more expensive to repair the house and heat it—almost double this year. When we compared our expenses to the low monthly payment at 10 Wilmington Place, we were sold. Not only has our cost of living gone down, but our quality of life has gone up—you can't put a price tag on that."

Our goal at 10 Wilmington Place is to provide the highest standard of living at prices that you can afford. Our spacious apartment homes have high ceilings and tall windows for plenty of sunlight.
